Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. The chromaticity indexes "a" and "b" are critical or essential to the practice of the invention, included in the claim(s) but NOT enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976). Each of claims 1-3 and 7-9 make reference to "a" and "b" as being defined in JIS-Z-8730 and measured in accordance with a method defined in JIS-Z-87-22. However, the specification does not disclose either the definition of "a" and/or "b", or the method by which "a" and/or "b" is measured.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-3 and 7-9 are rejected as being vague and indefinite when they each recite "a and b are defined in JIS-Z-8730 and measured in accordance with a method defined in JIS-Z-87-22" (emphasis added); the scope of the protection sought by reference to the Japanese Industrial Standard is not clear.

5. Claims 3 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 3 and 7 are rejected as being vague and indefinite when they each recite "wherein the photographic material contains a compound represented by formula (1) as claimed in claim 1" (emphasis added); the scope of the protection sought is not clear. Claim 1 is drawn to an image forming method.

Claim 8 is rejected as being vague and indefinite when it recites "wherein the photographic material contains a compound represented by formula (2) as claimed in claim 5" (emphasis added); the scope of the protection sought is not clear. Claim 5 is drawn to an image forming method.

Claim 9 is rejected as being vague and indefinite when it recites "wherein the photographic material contains a compound represented by formula (3) as claimed in claim 6" (emphasis added); the scope of the protection sought is not clear. Claim 5 is drawn to an image forming method.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1752

7. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takahashi et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,686,137).

Takahashi et al. discloses an image forming method comprising the steps of exposing a silver halide photographic material, and processing a silver halide photographic material, wherein the processed photographic material exhibits chromaticity indexes "a" and "b" inclusive of the instant range (see claim 5) and wherein said photographic material contains a compound inclusive of the instant formula (1) (see the dyes in column 28, lines 13-60)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 1-16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Suematsu et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,957,856).

Suematsu et al. discloses an image forming method comprising the steps of exposing a silver halide photographic material, and processing a silver halide photographic material, wherein said photographic material contains a compound represented by formula (II) (column 2, line 50+) inclusive of the instant formula (1). Although Suematsu et al. does not specify the chromaticity indexes "a" and "b" of the processed photographic material, Suematsu et al. discloses the image forming method and silver halide photographic material of the instant claims, it is asserted that the processed photographic material inherently possesses the recited chromaticity indexes "a" and "b", and that the claimed image forming method and silver halide photographic material lack novelty, absent object evidence to the contrary. Assuming arguendo that the processed photographic material does not possess the recited chromaticity indexes "a" and "b", then Suematsu et al. is also relied upon under 35 USC 103 because it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the requisite art at the time the invention was made to process the photographic material in order to achieve a satisfactory visual whiteness and image quality, with reasonable expectations of achieving, absent object evidence to the contrary the advantages generally taught therein.
